

Virginia Department of Mines, Minerals and Energy
Division of Geology and Mineral Resources
2012 Geologic Research Symposium
Invitation and Call for Presentations

The Virginia Division of Geology and Mineral Resources (DGMR) is pleased to invite interested geoscientists to the 2012 Virginia Geologic Research Symposium to be held on Thursday, April 12th, 2012, at the Natural Resources Building, 900 Natural Resource Drive, Charlottesville, Virginia, 22903.

The Virginia Geologic Research Symposium is an opportunity for geologists working in Virginia to gather, network, and present new, developing, innovative, or potential research projects focused on the geology of Virginia.

If you are interested in presenting either a technical session talk or a poster, or in facilitating a breakout session, please email Lorrie Coiner at Lorrie.Coiner@dmme.virginia.gov, state your interest and:

Presenter

Title of Presentation

Affiliation

Preferred Oral or Poster

Oral Presentations will be a total of 20 minutes. We suggest 15-minute presentations and 5 minutes for questions and answers. PowerPoint is the preferable format

Poster Presentations will occur during a one hour block with no talks at that time, so assume you'll be there the full hour. Posters should be no larger than 4' x 8'.